TeachingBooks 2.0 Coming Throughout 2008

We're excited to share that we've been rebuilding the entire infrastructure of TeachingBooks.net. Over the next few months, version 2.0 will begin to roll out.

<http://TeachingBooks.net/Relaunch>

Learn about our instantaneous support of all your reading lists! Learn about the new ways you can search! And learn how TeachingBooks 2.0 will become a collaborative online community for all readers to share insights, strategies and enjoyment for multimedia book connections!

Thank you for the opportunity to learn with you, and build this new 2.0 experience for all readers to enjoy.

Updated MARC Records Coming Soon

Those licenses with IP authenticated access will soon be able to make the TeachingBooks Original Author Programs searchable in their library catalogs. The file we're sending out this spring includes 10 new and 39 improved MARC records about our author programs. We'll be emailing the file to the License Coordinator(s) for each account that has given us their external IP address ranges.

Questions about the forthcoming MARC records can be directed to TeachingBooks Information Manager, Carin Bringelson: carin@TeachingBooks.net

Share the New Author Program Handout

To help you and your colleagues both know about and see how to best use the TeachingBooks Original Author Programs, view and print the new, full-color, four-page brochure at <http://TeachingBooks.net/Authors4Page>

TeachingBooks at IRA: Want to Meet?

Nick Glass, the founder of TeachingBooks, is exhibiting and speaking at the International Reading Association (IRA) Annual Convention, May 5-8, 2008 in Atlanta. If you would like to meet with Nick, email him at nick@TeachingBooks.net. Or just stop by the TeachingBooks Booth 1344.

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710
