TeachingBooks.net

April 2009

Vol. 5, No. 4

*This monthly newsletter provides the inside scoop on how you can maximize the use of TeachingBooks.
Please forward pertinent information to your colleagues.*

Planning your Back-to-School Staff Development?

We would be delighted to participate in the Back-to-School training you'll be providing for new and returning teachers in the fall. We can provide free virtual trainings geared toward your audience based on grade level and subject area. See <http://www.teachingbooks.net/schedulewebinar> for the details on scheduling a live training session with us.

Please send us your summer reading lists!

TeachingBooks.net now offers single-click access for everyone in your district to instantly have all the online multimedia resources that support your district's summer reading lists!

To send us your lists, please follow the directions available at: <http://teachingbooks.net/readinglists>

The directions include a downloadable Excel template file for you to fill out and send back to us.

Updated MARC Records Sent

Last week we sent out a file that includes 54 MARC records about our originally produced author programs. We emailed the file to the License Coordinator(s) for each account that has given us their external IP address ranges.

Questions about the MARC records can be directed to TeachingBooks Information Manager, Carin Bringelson: carin@TeachingBooks.net

What's New Webinar to focus on originally produced TeachingBooks.net materials

This month's 10-minute webinar with Nick Glass, TeachingBooks Founder, will highlight the materials that we have originally produced for you.

Please join this training on Wednesday (Earth Day!), and then participate in the phone Q&A afterwards.

Wednesday April 22nd: 1pm Eastern Time, 10am Pacific Time

All you need to do is go to: <http://www.teachingbooks.net/monthlywebinar>

If you can't make this month's webinar, watch the recording we'll send out after the webinar, or join us for the last webinar of this school year on Tuesday, May 19th at 1pm Central Time.

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710
