Ideas for Back-to-School Staff Training

The TeachingBooks.net staff is always available to train your colleagues to help make the most of your investment in our service. As you're planning back-to-school professional development opportunities for the summer and fall, feel free to invite us to lead a complimentary, live webinar training. Details and scheduling forms are in our new "Support Area" available from the top of any TeachingBooks webpage, or directly at: <http://TeachingBooks.net/Webinars>. Or, just give us a call: (800) 596-0710.

MARC Records Updated!

The 2010 batch of MARC records that make the TeachingBooks.net Original Author Programs instantly available from your library catalog was emailed last week to coordinators of all IP authenticated licenses. If you didn't receive this, or have questions about them, please contact Danika Brubaker, danika@TeachingBooks.net.

As a reminder, if you are part of a district-wide, university, or independent school license, IP authentication offers a variety of benefits, including these MARC Records.

Coretta Scott King Book Award Curriculum Resource Center

Use the Coretta Scott King Book Award Curriculum Resource Center throughout the school year to support your teaching and literature initiatives. Produced by TeachingBooks.net and updated with recordings from the 2010 Coretta Scott King winners and honorees, utilize this center—the thousands of teaching resources and 10+ hours of original recordings—to meet 40-years worth of award recipients! Embed, share, and use: <http://TeachingBooks.net/CSK>.

This Month's "What's New Webinar" Features New Curricular Uses

Join us tomorrow (Tuesday, April 13), for a 10-minute webinar with Nick Glass, TeachingBooks.net's Founder. The web seminar explores the new Curricular Uses section of TeachingBooks.net—designed to quickly highlight exemplary resources and ways TeachingBooks.net supports all your content areas.

Tuesday, April 13th: 5:15 p.m. Eastern Time, 2:15 p.m. Pacific Time
Just go to: <http://TeachingBooks.net/MonthlyWebinar>

If you can't make this month's webinar, watch the recording we'll distribute after the webinar.

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710
