Complimentary Training for You and Your Colleagues

TeachingBooks.net would like to lead a free, live webinar training—customized as you wish to show how TeachingBooks supports your reading and library work. We want you to get the most from your investment in our service, so as you're planning back-to-school professional development opportunities, simply invite us to lead a training for your librarians, reading teachers, curriculum coordinators—anyone using books, K–12. We'd like to share with everyone in your audience how TeachingBooks can add a multimedia dimension to the books they're currently using. Details and scheduling forms are in our new "Support Area" available either from the top of any TeachingBooks webpage or directly at: <http://TeachingBooks.net/Webinars>. Or, just give us a call: (800) 596-0710.

NEW: Curricular Uses of TeachingBooks.net

What's this you say? It's a new section of the website where anyone, yes, anyone—teachers, librarians, administrators, faculty, students, and families—using books in a K–12 environment can quickly and easily learn uses of TeachingBooks. It includes uses for:

- * English Language Arts
- * Book Clubs
- * Art Educators
- * Social Studies Classes
- ...and many more.

From our home page, click on "Curricular Uses" (in the center of the screen, illustrated with a green chalk board), or go directly to: <http://TeachingBooks.net/CurricularUses>

This Month's What's New Webinar: An Overview of the New Curricular Uses

Join us on Wednesday, August 25, 2010 for a 10-minute webinar with Nick Glass, TeachingBooks.net's Founder. This web seminar will consist of an overview of the new Curricular Uses section of TeachingBooks—designed to quickly highlight for educators in all K–12 content areas, exemplary resources and ways that TeachingBooks supports everyone's reading and library work.

Wednesday, August 25th: 12 p.m. Eastern Time, 9 a.m. Pacific Time

Just go to: <http://TeachingBooks.net/MonthlyWebinar>

If you can't make this month's webinar, watch the recording we'll distribute after the webinar. Please see the rest of the fall schedule at: <http://TeachingBooks.net/WhatsNewWebinar>.

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710
