The Newsletter for License Coordinators of TeachingBooks.net

December 2008 Vol. 4, No. 12

This monthly newsletter provides the inside scoop on how you can maximize the use of TeachingBooks.

Invite your colleagues to join TeachingBooks' new Tip Team!

Please forward this announcement to colleagues who you think would enjoy being part of this exciting new TeachingBooks.net Web 2.0 initiative.

Teacher Tips is a new web space on TeachingBooks.net for you to share your experiences about using multimedia book and author resources in your work. We want all teachers to share and learn from each other about some of the best practices for this relatively new pedagogical approach of integrating authors and online materials into your reading and library activities.

We need your help to launch the Teacher Tips community: we are looking for teachers and librarians who are interested in contributing tips and sharing feedback. As an early Tip Team member you can:

- See your tips published on TeachingBooks.net.
- Help us make improvements to Teacher Tips before it is made available to all users of TeachingBooks by sharing your suggestions and comments.
- Get to know our resources better and learn how to make the most of TeachingBooks.net.

To join the Tip Team, just go to: <http://www.teachingbooks.net/tipteamsignup>

Or email us at tips@teachingbooks.net.

On Monday, join a "What's New with TeachingBooks" webinar!
