The Newsletter for License Coordinators of TeachingBooks.net

February 2009 Vol. 5, No. 2

*This monthly newsletter provides the inside scoop on how you can maximize the use of TeachingBooks.
Please forward pertinent information to your colleagues.*

Blog articles as the latest professional development tool

Need in-depth ideas about using favorite resources? If so, we invite you to read and/or subscribe to the News from TeachingBooks.net blog. Written by our staff (with occasional guest-blog appearances by award-winning authors), you'll get ideas for integrating specific multimedia author and book resources into your reading and library activities.

Read it and subscribe today by going to: <http://forum.teachingbooks.net/>

TeachingBooks is Twittering!

Get brief updates about the authors we're interviewing, trainings we're giving, etc. to help make TeachingBooks as meaningful and exciting as possible.

Follow our Tweets on Twitter.com (our name is TeachingBooks), or read them on our blog or Facebook page. All of our Web 2.0 Tools can be accessed from our home page, or directly at: <http://teachingbooks.net/web20>

Need some recently published books?

Because TeachingBooks founder Nick Glass served on the 2009 Newbery Committee, hundreds of books were sent to him for review. We'd love to get these books into the hands of children and young adults in schools. (Almost all books are 2008 hardcover titles in near-perfect condition; most are middle school novels, but there are some young adult and picture books as well.) If you would like to receive a box of about 25 of these books (free except for a $15 shipping fee), respond to this message or email carin@teachingbooks.net to get more details. While supplies last.

Tomorrow: Join the Monthly What's New Webinar

Please join Nick Glass, TeachingBooks' Founder, in this monthly webinar designed to give you, our license coordinators, a way to directly communicate with us. The agenda for this 10-minute overview includes: resources on ALA book award winners and our blog as a Professional Development tool. It will be followed by a telephone Q&A. Hope you can join us!

Tuesday, February 17th: 12 noon Eastern Time, 9 AM Pacific Time

All you need to do is go to: <http://www.teachingbooks.net/monthlywebinar>

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710
