This monthly newsletter provides the inside scoop on how you can maximize the use of TeachingBooks. Please forward pertinent information to your colleagues.

Charter Schools in Your District?

If your district funds and provides resources to charter schools, then as far as TeachingBooks.net is concerned, they are covered under your license. Please send us the charter school names, their unique email domains (e.g., @schoolname.org), and the contact information for whomever you think would appreciate a note of introduction from TeachingBooks. We would like to help all of your charter school teachers, librarians, and families know about and use your license. Email accounts@teachingbooks.net.

TeachingBooks.net Essentials in 15 Minutes

Alyssa Yokota-Lewis, our Educational Outreach Coordinator, is ready to share TeachingBooks with your staff in a 15-minute demonstration. Via a live webinar training, she can cover the basics, show some resource samples, and get your staff energized about integrating this database of multimedia resources into their work. Longer sessions are also available should you prefer.
