

CONDUIT

The Newsletter for License Coordinators of TeachingBooks.net

November 2006 Vol. 2, No. 11

*This newsletter is sent only to the coordinator(s) of each TeachingBooks license.
Please forward pertinent information to your colleagues.*

Learn Your Community's Best Practice Uses of TeachingBooks

Now it's easy to learn how your colleagues are using TeachingBooks! Just forward (or post) this best practice form to collect anecdotal experiences:

<http://teachingbooks.net/bestpractice>

The form asks four questions — with the aim of gathering stories that can inspire the use of TeachingBooks by others.

The “Best Practice Uses Feedback Form” is also available through the “Contact” section of the site — found on the top of every TeachingBooks page.

Printable Bookmarks Now In Color

In response to a common request, you can now print out colorful bookmarks for your license. Besides being in color, the bookmarks:

- Are customized with your license name
- Include remote access directions and your shared password
- Print nicely in black and white

You can access the bookmarks by clicking on “Printable Bookmark with Your Password” in the orange “Share TeachingBooks” box on the home page. Or, go to the “Support” section of the site — found at the top of every TeachingBooks page — and look for “Sharing Resources.”

Enhanced Eye-on-the-Web Email

The TeachingBooks vision includes informing busy educators about new literature resources that fall within their specific grade levels and subject areas of interest.

These customized Eye-on-the-Web emails are now easier to read and navigate. We sent such an email last week (Wednesday, Nov. 15th), so let us know if you have any feedback on it by contacting Carin at carin@TeachingBooks.net

Thanks! Let us know how we can help you use and enjoy TeachingBooks! 800-596-0710

© 2006 TeachingBooks.net LLC. All rights reserved.